Professor Felicity Gerry QC is admitted at the International Criminal Court and the Kosovo Specialist Chambers in The Hague, to the Bar of England & Wales and in Australia (Victoria and the High Court Roll). She has also had ad hoc admission in Hong Kong and Gibraltar. As an international QC she is regularly called upon to handle serious, complex and sensitive trials and appeals at every level of court. Her cases and advisory work often involve an international or human rights element, including genocide, war crimes, torture terrorism, homicide, biosecurity, illegal logging, human trafficking and other major domestic and international crime.

Felicity holds a Bachelor of Laws, a Master of Laws in International Governance and a Graduate Certificate in University Teaching and Learning (GCUTL). She is Professor of Legal Practice at Deakin University, Melbourne where she is unit chair in the undergraduate and JD programs teaching Contemporary International Legal Challenges – including War Crimes, ‘Modern Slavery’, Terrorism and Climate Change Law and she is involved in the clinical programs. She is also an Honorary Professor in the School of Health and Society at Salford University.

Felicity has a particular interest in the law on complicity: She led a team of academics and practitioners who were given leave to file an Amicus Curiae Brief in the ICTY on JCEIII liability. She was leading counsel in R v Jogee [2016] UKSC 8 which corrected an error of law in complicity. She led similar appeals in Hong Kong and Australia. She led a successful mercy petition on behalf of a young Aboriginal man who was convicted of a murder when he was not physically present and has filed a similar petition in the UK on behalf of an autistic prisoner. She also led appeals in R v Lewis [2017] EWCA Crim 1734 which clarified the law on joint principalship and in R v Rebelo [2019] EWCA Crim 633 which clarified the law on manslaughter.

Felicity has provided training to the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association Modern Slavery Project and the Bangladesh Judiciary Management Project. She has been involved in submissions to Governments leading to changes in the law on Modern Slavery, FGM and Reproductive Rights. She recently led a death penalty study for the Commission of Human Rights for the Philippines and previously led a four -year project on Women in Prison for Halsbury’s Law Exchange (part of the Lexis Nexis group) and a small Indigenous Justice and Exoneration Project. She has been involved in a number of projects and policy submissions and is widely published in the fields of human rights, women and law, technology and law and reforming justice systems. She contributes to Annotated Leading Cases of International Criminal Tribunals, the Research Handbook on Feminist Engagement in International Law, Human Trafficking and Modern Slavery Law and Practice and is the Editor of ANZSIL Perspective.

She was Lawyers Weekly Barrister of the Year 2020 and Solicitors Journal Legal Personality of the Year 2016 and has been recognised in the Legal 500 as a leading silk and as “Fearless and independent minded”. She has appeared in the BAFTA nominated FGM documentary The Cruel Cut, ABC Foreign Correspondent's documentary Saving Mary Jane and is credited in the LOGIE nominated Zak Grieve as well as appearing in various documentaries and on all major news channels.
